

MEET THE EXPERTS

August 17, 2013 | Palo Alto, CA

Solta Medical will be hosting a special event featuring Solta Medical Vice President Jeff Nardoci, Dr. Edward W. Knowlton, Dr. Vic Narurkar and Dr. Susan Van Dyke. The sessions will focus on facial rejuvenation utilizing multiple technologies and injectables, along with non-invasive custom body contouring utilizing High Intensity Focused Ultrasound (HIFU) technology.

Jeff Nardoci is the Vice President of Worldwide Marketing & General Manager Surgical Specialties at Solta Medical, Inc. Mr. Nardoci has more than 20 years of experience in marketing and strategic consumer development in both the medical and consumer goods markets.

Dr. Edward Knowlton is the original founder of Thermage. His many accomplishments include the invention of the ThermoCool TC System. Dr. Knowlton is also an active Plastic Surgeon with 26 years of experience in private practice.

Dr. Vic Narurkar lectures both nationally and internationally, and is the author of over 100 publications. In 2009, he was appointed Chair of Dermatology at California Pacific Medical Center, San Francisco's oldest hospital.

Dr. Susan Van Dyke is a board certified dermatologist, with an emphasis in cosmetic dermatology. She is a fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology, and the American Society of Dermatologic Surgery, among others.
